HEADWAY ANNOUNCES NEW WEB-BASED WIDGET “TIM” TO PROVIDE RETAIL TALENT INVENTORY LEVELS IN TOP 150 MARKETS

INDUSTRY’S FIRST INTERACTIVE TALENT INVENTORY MAP ALLOWS ONLINE USERS TO VIEW RETAIL CANDIDATE SUPPLY ON MARKET BY MARKET BASIS

RALEIGH, N.C. — OCTOBER 28, 2010 – Headway Corporate Resources, a North American workforce solutions provider, announced today it has launched an interactive online widget called TIM (Talent Inventory Map), which enables users to view retail candidate and talent levels in the top 150 U.S. markets. TIM provides up-to-date virtual talent “inventory” of sales associates, store managers, district managers and other positions available on a market by market basis. By visiting TIM at headwaycorp.com/tim retailers now have a useful resource to learn more about available talent for store or market expansion plans as well as the ability to gain talent acquisition insights for various locations.

“We are proud to help retailers connect with superior talent and workforce solutions that improve their operational and financial performance through our technology-driven and centralized service delivery model” stated Headway’s CEO J.P. Sakey. “Being the first in this sector to launch an interactive talent inventory map tool like TIM further advances our commitment and capabilities to the retail industry,” said Sakey.

The company also has plans in development to expand the positions available with TIM to other retail based jobs in call center, distribution center and corporate retail areas, as well as in other sectors Headway currently serves, including, but not limited to: Engineering, Energy, Technology, Financial Services, Institutional, Government, Nonprofit and others.

For retailers that are looking for qualified district managers to sales associates, TIM’s intuitive navigation only takes a few mouse clicks to quickly determine how many field-level candidates are currently available in each market. Visit Headway’s TIM at www.headwaycorp.com/tim
